DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. While the specification (on page 1), by way of the preliminary amendment filed on February 10, 2004, does contain a reference to parent application, e.g. 10/119,472, this reference does not include the current status, i.e. that it matured into U.S. Patent 6,801,391. The specification should be amended to reflect the current status of parent application 10/119,472.

Specification

2. Applicant is reminded of the proper content of an abstract of the disclosure.

A patent abstract is a concise statement of the technical disclosure of the patent and should include that which is new in the art to which the invention pertains. If the patent is of a basic nature, the entire technical disclosure may be new in the art, and the abstract should be directed to the entire disclosure. If the patent is in the nature of an improvement in an old apparatus, process, product, or composition, the abstract should include the technical disclosure of the improvement. In certain patents, particularly those for compounds and compositions, wherein the process for making and/or the use thereof are not obvious, the abstract should set forth a process for making and/or use thereof. If the new technical disclosure involves modifications or alternatives, the abstract should mention by way of example the preferred modification or alternative.

The abstract should not refer to purported merits or speculative applications of the invention and should not compare the invention with the prior art.

Where applicable, the abstract should include the following:

- (1) if a machine or apparatus, its organization and operation;
- (2) if an article, its method of making;
- (3) if a chemical compound, its identity and use;
- (4) if a mixture, its ingredients;
- (5) if a process, the steps.

Extensive mechanical and design details of apparatus should not be given.

3. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

Art Unit: 3729

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

4. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the content appears to be greater than 150 words and is not directed to the claimed subject matter, i.e. process of making. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

5. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

The following title is suggested: A Method of Manufacturing a Magnetic Head.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

6. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

7. Claims 7-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In Claim 7, the term of "outer" (line 5) is awkwardly placed such it renders the phrase of "the slide contact plane outer than the end face" (same line) as confusing, misleading and simply not understood.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

9. Claims 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Honda et al 5,708,543.

Honda discloses a manufacturing method comprising: forming a groove (e.g. 12) at an end portion of a slide contact plane and at an end face of a nonmagnetic gap of magnetic core halves (e.g. 14, 15 in Fig. 6) on the slide contact plane; and forming a nonmagnetic portion by filling a glass material (e.g. 16) into the groove.

Regarding Claim(s) 8, Honda further shows a slide plane (e.g. surface 11a) of the groove to have a surface roughness of 100 angstroms, which is equal to 10 nm (col. 4, lines 53+).

10. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Matsuzawa 4,711,018.

Matsuzawa discloses a manufacturing method comprising: forming a groove (e.g. 24) at an end portion of a slide contact plane and at an end face of a nonmagnetic gap of magnetic core halves (e.g. 2, 4 in Fig. 6b) on the slide contact plane; and forming a nonmagnetic portion by filling a glass material (e.g. 20) into the groove.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
